Unless income taxes are completely done away with, I oppose a retail sales tax. It would be much fairer to get rid of the income tax and apply just a sales tax since everyone purchases items in the state even people who supposedly claim to be poor or not very well off. But it's funny the items they seem to be able to purchase. I am tired of the Legislature continuing to take more and more money. I can't remember the last time I received a raise that I didn't have to turn around and put it all towards taxes.
