I oppose HB 4125. The tax rates on businesses like my own (Collision Auto Glass) is already crippling. This bill would allow the state to increase taxes at will with potential of refund later. However, the bill also allows what would essentially be a "slush fund." This bill does not discriminate between big business (like Amazon) and small employers (like mine). This would put the people who employ tax payers out of business but keep state jobs and international CEOs safe.

Along with a struggling economy and poor city management, this bill would force more employers out of the state of Oregon like Dutch Bros. Was forced to.
