Measure, Appointment or Topic:

HB4088

In a time where the federal government is eroding the reproductive rights of women and the rights of nonbinary and trans individuals to obtain the gender care they need it is important for states to take steps to safeguard their citizens. Not only does this measure take specific steps to prevent the federal government persecuting people seeking medical care, by enacting such policy and regulations the state government can show they stand with and stand for ALL of their citizens.
