

Submitter:

David Jordan

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

House Committee On Revenue

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

HB4125

The kicker is one of the stupidest policies I have ever heard of, do you know the parable of the grasshopper and the ant? Revenue surplus should be set aside for lean years so the government can actually function regardless of the economy. Maybe you can't kill the kicker legislatively now but at least water it down so we don't waste quite so much public revenue each year. Whatever chump change we get each year in no way makes up for the erosion in public services.