This bill does not prevent future increases to income tax in addition to imposing the sales tax. Our state cannot eat their cake and have ours too. Our state has not shown they can handle their finances properly and it's shown so clearly with the state of our roadways, the condition of our cities and parks, and our desperately underperforming education system.

In the normal world, when a company can't balance the budget they either need to spend less or provide a better service to make more income. I suggest you try the latter option and work on making Oregon a more appealing place to live so maybe we can attract people who would be willing BUY property rather than just renting apartments. More home owners = more tax revenue.
