I support farms to have an area where they can sell their product. I support no limits on the size of the farm, small farms especially are dollar challenged and need all the income they can generate. the utility of a farm stand is hard to explain. the ability to sell any amount of product on a honor system is a boon to the small farm. the need to go thru all the process of going to town for a farmers market can be physically and fiscally unsustainable.

please let the yeoman farmer have a chance, john karlik
