The referendum and constitution clearly states to be put on the November/General ballot but here we are.

I thought there were three equal branches of government. Why is it you're more concerned with cleaning up our governors mess than our states issues? When are you gonna stop bending the knee and say "No Kings" to our governor? The fact that our Senate president is pushing for this only solidifies the monarchy in Salem. When are our representatives going to start listening to their constituents?
