Why must the Democrat supermajority constantly act with contempt for the Oregon taxpayers. The people said loud and clear that they wanted to vote on the Gas Tax in November. It was stated in the top right corner of every petition when they signed it. So let me get this straight! You couldn't get the transportation tax bill done in the long session because it was not liked by the people, called a special session to ram it through anyway, once passed the governor tried to subvert the will of the voter by not signing it, 250,000 people said we want to vote on it in record time, talked about repealing the whole bill which is illegal after it's been referred by the people, and now you want to move it to a low voter turnout election while trying to pass even more taxes in the short session for which it was only intended for budget tweaks. For far too long the status quo of one party rule has plagued this once great state. Oregon is a shell of what it once was no thanks to tone deaf politicians from one party. The people are watching and will vote you out of office if you choose to die on this hill. Strongly recommend voting NO!
