

Submitter: Haley Bosse
On Behalf Of:
Committee: Senate Committee On Natural Resources and Wildfire
Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB1541

As an educator, I've seen the families in Lane County struggle through worsening fire seasons. Children and parents alike are suffering adverse health effects from wildfire smoke and pollution. In the summer and fall, these families are prevented from going to school and work. Right now, individual Oregonians are paying the price incurred by corporations. Please ensure that polluters and all those corporations worsening the effects of climate change in Oregon are required to pay their fair share toward protecting the communities negatively impacted by their actions.

When you make a mess, you should clean it up. That's why I support the creation of the Climate Resilience Superfund, to hold polluters accountable by making the large, out-of-state fossil fuel companies pay their fair share.

From wildfires to polluted water, we've watched as communities across the state have felt the worst of our climate crisis. For too long, the cost of cleaning up the impacts of climate change has been the responsibility of us Oregonians and our local governments. We've been footing the bill while fossil fuel companies rake in the profits.
That must end.

As legislators, you have the power to shift the costs from your constituents to these mega corporations. I urge you to pass SB 1541 and finally make these polluters pay for the damage they've done to communities across our state.