Quit playing political games and ignoring the large movement of Oregon citizens whom are tired of being lied to by their elected officials in Salem. The politicians in Salem have milked Oregon taxpayers for more money to squander for far too long. Now, after a large opposition to increasing taxes showed up and signed petitions democrats, including Oregon's incompetent governor, think they can move the goalposts again just to try and avoid having her reelection bid on the same ballot as her wildly unpopular money grab referendum. Oregon voters and petition signers are owed exactly what they signed petitions for, a chance to vote on the referendum in the November election.
