Once again, the components of the supermajority forget why they are in office as elected officials. It is not to promote an unwanted agenda, nor to simply fall in line with an "us or them" position, nor is it to ignore the voice and desires of a quarter of a million voters. I am sure from a political perspective (which is the only one that matters to you folks) it is important to ignore our voice but try for once to remember what your role is - to listen to the people. Not your inner voice of greed and power.

Oregonians spoke loud and clear regarding the transportation bill and to try and shove it through the May procedures is insulting to our intelligence and integrity. Shame on you.
