I think it's messed up and totally wrong that Tina Kotak and the Democrats want to move the election date for us to vote on the gas tax bill. We all know it's because she shot herself in the foot by coming up with this bill and finding out that not just Republicans but Democrats and Independents after how many people signed the petition, do not support this bill. Now she is scared that she's going to lose her reelection campaign if this is on the same ballot. She is hoping to rush it. That way voters forget when her reelection comes up. That is not what we signed the petition for we signed the petition so that it was on the November ballot and that's where it should stay. In my personal opinion, this shows you how corrupt the Democrat party is trying to be to stay in control. I don't trust a single one of them and when stuff like this happens and continues to happen I will never trust them. All they want is to stay in power and to keep taking our money. It's hard enough to survive as it is and pretty soon they're going to put more people out on the streets and homeless or jobless because of all these stupid ideas. So again in my personal opinion, this needs to stay on the November ballot in order to prove that there can be trust and that there is honesty and to prove that there's integrity!
