Vaccines are safe and effective, and an extremely valuable aspect of modern medicine. Limiting that access worsens health options and decreases personal freedom. Last fall it took us days and dozens of calls to find a provider who would give us our annual Covid shot, and we had to travel two hours round trip to get there. Despite living in Salem, we could not find a place locally who believed they were allowed to give us the shot. Oregonians need access to this critical aspect of health care.
