The bill is an obvious function of the Democrat party to push through a political stunt to keep the public from voting in November on this issue, where it was to be decided by the voters in Oregon. It is also well known that a large number of Oregonians are not in favor of this bill to begin with, as it was brought about on a very unusual day when most of the state was unaware it even was discussed by our politicians, of which most are not Republican. This makes our government look very shady, and not trustworthy of representation.
