I use to believe that the Oregon legislature had the best interest of Oregonians and the state of Oregon as their primary goal. However the governor and some of our representatives seem intent on bending the rules to undermine opinions of their constituents to keep their power and personnel goals at the expense of the Oregon tax payer. I did not vote for this professional politicians to screw the Oregon tax payer out of more money, but to make the hard budget decisions most people with a budget face. If was a matter of extorting endless taxes from the citizens, any clown could run this state.

The governor and legislature should govern by established protocols. If the citizens of Oregon vote for higher taxes under fair rules of engagement, I have no issues. It is the slimly, underhanded tactics that our current governor is employing to push her agenda I object too.
