Nursing ratios are critical to providing safe patient care. a ratio of 1:5 will ensure more hospital deaths, nurse burn out and consistent unsafe access to care. its a truly horrific idea. imagine if your loved one was in the hospital and their nurse was responsible for 5 people yet they were consistently late to administer medications, complete assessments and catch symptoms of critical illness so they can be prevented before they code and die a completely preventable death. Take care of nurses so they can take care of you and yours!
