I object to rezoning land and giving tax breaks to support corporate profits while creating more environmental devastation. Once they are sited on farmland, that land is gone forever, while it is our experience that these tech sites will be obsolete within a few years. There is available industrial land that could be used for this purpose. In addition, the data centers supported by this act do not support abundant, well-paid jobs. It is not in Oregonians interest to give tax breaks to large corporations that are already not doing their share to support good paying jobs, public infrastructure, and schools.
