The threat of MEDICAL MANDATES rising from the crypt to once again, to throw our lives and livelihoods under the BigPharma+Corporate bus to Hell...
...is legislative terrorism.

We the People not only have the Constitutional right to decide our own health care measures from our own intellect and conscience, but we have a human right to decide for ourselves. Politicians, corporations and paid staff bowing to higher management MANDATES, or be fired, is defacto totalitarianism.

I'm 75 years old, a science enthusiast, and I researched for many years this sudden allocation of "flu" as deadly disease. I immediately saw the extreme overreaction of LOCKDOWN for what it was: the greatest mass crime in the world's history. I lived through the acceptance period of mumps, measles and chicken pox as mild rights of passage where only children 5 and under were in danger. True herd immunity already existed because of this.

The NEW BigPHARMA corporate propaganda has tried to fear-monger the world into a corporate controlled dependence upon it's ridiculous untested, unvetted, corporate-science experiments. 5-10 years of testing medical products before deployment... thrown out the window. A false rush to fill a need created by the advertising departments of BigPharma and Wall Street profiteers has been facilitated by our political class, composed of both corrupt Parties. All of this is transparent to anyone who does the research. I have over 5 inches thick of it, and know all of this projected extreme medical fear mongering is a lie, full of tiny lies to "prove" false conclusions.

If y'all persist into legislating this evil once again, we will be leaving this state for more humanity friendly lands. We will not tolerate ridiculous behavioral mandates. economic destruction and vigilante mobs empowered to act like hysterical uneducated fools, belittling anyone who stands by their own conscience. We do not dictate to others and we do not want others dictating to us. We are intelligent adults deserving respect and human dignity. And our human rights.
