Measure, Appointment or Topic: HB4134

You will have heard expert testimony in the fields of ocean oceanography and the earth sciences. My testimony is in support of the well-documented scientific research and fact-based conclusions drawn from said research.

Our oceans give life to all organisms. From tidal marshes, vital ecosystems to new life, to the release of oxygen, to their roll in our wether patterns and life-giving rain, the oceans are critical to sustaining life as we know it. Protect it. Fight for it.
