During the Oregon Supreme Court hearing the justices asked the attorney general please name one constitutional right that requires a permit prior to utilizing that right? The AG thought for a minute then said " a drivers license" . The justice replied driving is a privilege not a constitutional right. The AG then admitted that there were none.

Therefore, it is more likely than not the permit to purchase will be struck down as unconstitutional. Perhaps simply giving a state rebate to those that take a concealed carry course would be helpful.

Oregon passed the lock up your guns law in hopes of lowering children and teens from getting to your guns. This rule is by far the greatest way to save our youth.
