I support this as we need to support strong enforcement of existing law and to continue to strengthen protocols for keeping the public safe. This is about safety and prevention, not taking any rights or access to firearms from those who meet requirements. I am a mother of two kids, I want to make sure they are safe going to school, and I want to make sure we/they are safe in our community. Asking for a background check or extended waiting period is a small price to pay for the safety of our children and communities. Asking for a permit and appropriate training for a weapon is common sense. We don't allow people to drive a car (very easily could be a weapon) without training, license and registration. I don't feel it is out of the realm of possibility to expect this from gun owners. Thank you for your consideration.
